

Electronic Communications and Data Transfer/processing Disclaimer

This message and any other electronic communication (i.e., email, instant message, SMS, etc.) and its attachments (an "e-communication") are intended solely for the use of the intended recipient(s) and may contain information that is privileged, confidential, proprietary or otherwise protected by work product immunity or other legal rules. No confidentiality or privilege is waived or lost by any transmission errors. If you are not an intended recipient, please notify the sender, and then please delete and destroy all copies and attachments, and be advised that any review or dissemination of, or the taking of any action in reliance on, the information contained in or attached to this electronic communication is prohibited. This electronic communication is not intended for distribution to, or use by, any person or entity in any location where such distribution or use would be contrary to law or regulation, or which would subject Julius Baer to any registration requirement within such location.

Julius Baer does not use electronic communication to collect any personal data, except where you explicitly and knowingly provide such data. For your protection, Julius Baer recommends that you do not send it any individual personal information via communication methods that are not secure, including via public electronic communication channels, which are generally not secure and could be intercepted by a third party. Whilst Julius Baer takes measures to ensure that your personal data cannot be intercepted by third parties, please note that when communicating through email our website, data is transported over an open network (Internet) which is accessible to third parties and which cannot be regarded as a secure environment.

The transmission and content of this electronic communication cannot be guaranteed to be secure or free of errors or viruses. Therefore, Julius Baer does not represent that this e-communication (or the information contained herein) is complete, accurate, uncorrupted, timely or free of viruses and it should not be relied upon as such. Julius Baer does not waive any intellectual property rights in this e-communication.

Unless expressly prohibited by local law, Julius Baer may transmit or archive any data provided by you when communicating with us from outside your country of residence. In such cases, Julius Baer will make every effort to secure an appropriate standard of protection for your data, taking account of the applicable legal and regulatory requirements, including those relating to bank client confidentiality and data protection, but it is possible that data may be relayed to a country in which the prevailing standards of data protection are lower than in your country of domicile. Julius Baer accepts no responsibility or liability for the security of your data during transmission via the Internet. We would like to draw your attention to the fact that you can communicate with us by other means whenever you consider it appropriate on data protection grounds.

Julius Baer reserves the right to intercept, monitor, review and retain all e-communications sent to or from its systems as permitted by applicable law. Any electronic communication that is conducted within or through Julius Baer's systems will be subject to being archived, monitored and produced to regulators and in litigation in accordance with Julius Baer policy and local laws, rules and regulations. If you have any concerns or questions with regards to your personal data, please discuss with your relationship manager or Julius Baer contact.
